

Sharon Caroline Brassard

Romantic Designs

Born in Brockville, Ontario, Sharon began her life as the eldest child in a military family. Travelling the world only fuelled her already creative imagination. In 1981 she began to design dolls. With her love of costumes and authenticity she began to get recognition at local Crafts Shows and Exhibitions. In London Ontario she won “Best Display” and “Western Fair First Place”. She has been featured in The London Free Press and on the local TV stations. More recently she has extended her repertoire to include sculpting with friendly plastics. Studying under Canadian Sculptor, Jacqueline Kent and other clay artists, Sharon now sculpts miniature Faeries, Elves and other magical characters. Her past works include; Japanese Paper Dolls, Celtic and Scottish Dancers, and Wooden Clothespeg Dolls. Along with pioneering the St. Thomas Doll Club, she continues to sculpt and create in St. Thomas, Ontario where she lives with her husband Daniel.

“Within each of us there is a child. I embrace the child in me and in return, it helps me to look at life with a fresh innocence and imagination.”
